

Storyboard Overview

Note: Dialogue boxes when submitted or exited return to state of screen without dialogue box (the screen which calls the dialogue box). For clarity of the diagram, the arrows for some of these have not been included. Dialogue boxes are marked with *

LoginScreen - 1
